

A Delta Module Three reading and reference list

This is an edited reading and reference list for Module Three, based on the 2009 Principle Examiner's Report for Delta Module Three (links checked and amended December 2021 but websites change so you may have to do some searching).

Additions have been made to reflect the reading list published by Cambridge at the end of 2021. Any website references in that list which were no longer accessible have not been included. Where possible, the links from that list have also been updated.

There is also a reading and reference list for Delta Modules One and Two accessible from the Delta index page on www.eltconcourse.com.

The categories reflect the latest Cambridge list, minus an unnecessary list of basic grammars.
